

HELD FOR MURDER OF HER HUSBAND

Mrs. Alma Vaughn Arrested and Released on $25,000 Bond.

SECOND WARRANT FOR DR. J. R. HULL

Another Step Taken in What Promises to Be Most Sensational Case Ever Heard in Missouri—Accused Wife Breaks Down When Taken Before Judge.

Kirkville, Mo., February 26.—Mrs. Alma Proctor Vaughn was arrested on a warrant charging her with the murder of her husband, John T. Vaughn, this morning. She was released on $25,000 bond.

Mrs. Vaughn went to the office of Sheriff Williams and surrendered at 8:10 o'clock. During a twenty-minute wait while her attorneys were consulting she sat in the Sheriff's office and at 9 o'clock she went into the Circuit Court room. Judge Shelton told her that she was charged with first degree murder. She replied with a nod of her head. She was calm until she was told to stand up and swear she would appear when summoned. Then she broke down and wept after taking the oath she sank into her chair.

James S. Scott, her uncle, J. M. Proctor, Jr., her brother, and E. K. Yowell, of Monroe City, qualified as bondsmen, swearing their aggregate wealth was in excess of $150,000. Her attorney, William T. Haglund, asked the court to set the hearing, but Judge Shelton said it could not be before the May term of court.

Warrant for Hull.
The report of the grand jury was not made public this morning. The warrant was issued soon after the grand jury reported last afternoon. Prosecuting Attorney Rieger announced in court that he had issued a warrant for the arrest of Dr. J. R. Hull, of Monroe City. As Dr. Hull is on bail at Monroe City, he will not go to Monroe City to serve it immediately. The reading of the warrant was waived in court at the request of Mrs. Vaughn's attorneys.

Mrs. Vaughn was led from the courtroom to a hotel. She arrived here last night from Monroe City at the request of her attorneys. They had anticipated a warrant would be served on her today. She did not want her aged parents to see the warrant served.

Sensational Case.
The arrest of Mrs. Alma Proctor Vaughn marks another step in what promises to be one of the most sensational cases in the history of the State. Dr. J. R. Hull, of Monroe City, the family physician, was arrested Thursday on a like charge and is now out on bail. Vaughn died, according to the verdict of a coroner's jury from strychnine poisoning. The warrant for Mrs. Vaughn, issued last night, was served by Sheriff Williams. Mrs. Vaughn practically surrendered and her last night upon her arrival from Monroe City, but was permitted to spend the night with friends upon a promise by her attorneys to appear before Judge Shelton and accept service before 12 o'clock today. Her relatives are wealthy and have declared their determination to establish her innocence at any cost. She herself expresses her confidence in the outcome and says she is glad the suspense is over.

ANKLE SPRAINED, DIVORCE FOLLOWS

After Young Doctor Appears, Minister Sues for Separation.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Troy, N. Y., February 26.—Justice Howard, in special term this morning, granted an interlocutory judgment of divorce to Rev. William Morgan, pastor of the First Unitarian Church, of Albany, against his wife, Agnes Parsons Morgan, on statutory grounds.

On account of objections on the part of the bride's parents, they were secretly married in March, 1892, at Scranton, Pa., by Rev. J. T. Morris. The bride, Agnes Parsons, was one of the popular belles of that city. Subsequently, the young couple became reconciled with the bride's parents and a public marriage was performed at Rye, N. Y., May 23 of the same year by Rev. John E. Bushnell. Dr. Morgan and his young wife then took up their residence at Rye, Conn., and the clergyman pursued a post-graduate course at Yale divinity school, and after completing his studies lectured at the school.

All went well until Mrs. Morgan sprained her ankle, and Dr. Arthur C. Leslie, who had an office at Rye, had been an intern at a New Haven hospital, was called to attend her. The convalescent joy of the Morgans was abruptly interrupted, and thereafter Mrs. Morgan had almost no desire to continue her life with her husband. The most sensational part of the testimony was a confession by the wife in which she owned that Dr. Leslie was the father of her four-year-old daughter, Dorothy. The Morgans had no children.

In this confession Mrs. Morgan said her husband was the essence of goodness and kindness, and that she could attribute her actions only to lack of moral fibre on her part.

Detective Louis J. Webb, of New Haven, testified that one morning in September, 1909, Mrs. Morgan bought a through ticket over the Erie and connecting lines to Delevan, Wis., and that her husband came from Scranton to defray the expense of the trip.

On the following day, the detective swore he went to Dr. Leslie's office and was informed that he had gone west. They are believed to be living in Delevan. Walter E. Ward appeared for the plaintiff. The defendant was not represented, and it is understood that she will not oppose her husband's action, as she intends to marry Dr. Leslie as soon as the decree is confirmed.

NEWSPAPER MAN TAKES PUBLICITY JOB

Atlanta, Ga., February 26.—In connection with the proposed plans of the Southern Railway to give wider publicity to the industrial and agricultural growth of the territory traversed by its lines, announcement has been made that this work will be done under the direction of the assistant to the president, J. E. H. Thompson, with offices in Atlanta, and that Lauren Foreman, at present city editor of the Constitution, has been appointed to take charge of the work on March 15. This action on the part of the Southern Railway comes largely as a part of its policy to increase its efforts for the betterment and improvement of general conditions along the system, and particularly in the South.

STORE AND HOUSE BURNED.

Fire Was Started by Breaking of Lamp, the Oil Igniting.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Gloucester, Va., February 26.—The store and house of William T. Kemp, at Money, Gloucester county, was burned last night, and the entire contents destroyed. Mr. Kemp was fortunate in saving most of his post-office fixtures, stamps and a Mr. Kemp had shut up for the night, and with the lamp in his hand had started upstairs, when he knocked his arm against a projection, the lamp falling and breaking, and the oil became ignited. Before help arrived, the flames were beyond the power of Mr. Kemp had insurance which partially covered his loss.

CAMPAIGN ISSUES DEFINED BY MACK

Democratic Slogan Must Be Tariff and High Cost of Living.

TAFT SHARPLY CRITICIZED

President Forced to Defend Himself From Overburdened Public.

Buffalo, N. Y., February 26.—Chairman Norman E. Mack, of the Democratic national committee, makes it evident in the March number of his magazine, the National Monthly, that he believes the tariff and the high cost of living are to be two of the principal issues of the Democratic congressional campaigns of the present year.

Mr. Mack sharply criticizes the tariff portion of President Taft's Lincoln Day speech in New York and declares that the President cannot now sustain his Winona speech without repudiating the New York address, or vice versa, and that he must disavow Senator Aldrich's withdrawal his declaration on the woolen schedule of the tariff bill.

"Try as he will," says Mr. Mack, "President Taft cannot read into this tariff measure that it is a revision downward."

On the question of tariff making, Mr. Taft is an innocent child compared to the astute and crafty Aldrich. All the eloquence of the President and all the explanations of the departmental figures cannot alter the condition in which the consumer now finds himself. It is no longer his political enemies or partisan opponents, if you will, that the President is forced to defend himself, but from the demands of an overburdened public, worrying under the hardships of the tremendously high cost of living.
